ENGLISH LANGUAGE AS A MEANS OF DEVELOPING COMMUNICATIVE SPACE OF UKRAINE

Nowadays English is considered to be one of the most widely used languages in the world, meaning that more and more people use a foreign language in communication every day, namely in their personal lives, studies and business, which means that English unites people.

The ability to speak a foreign language as well as the native language is the ability to open doors in both professional and personal life. English is the language of opportunities and we can only agree with that. It is English that is spoken in almost all countries of the world.

Reasons to start learning and developing English can be the folowing: career growth, study and internship abroad, comfortable vacation without language barriers, business travel, finding business partners abroad and, of course, self-development.

Knowledge of English is an indicator of a competitive and mobile personality. Nowadays it is easier to find a prestigious and high-paying job for those who know a foreign language and this trend in the labor market is growing every year. By learning English, you are investing in your successful future!

The relevance and role of the study of English in the modern world were studied by: V.Alpatov, K.Artemyeva, V.Nesterenko, O.Khomenko, I.Panteleeva, D.Crystal, D.Greddol, B.Kachru, T.MacArthur, R.Phillipson and others. The place of English as a language of international communication in the perspective of political, social, managerial and philosophical sciences has been studied by scholars, in particular H.Dyvnych, O.Domnych, O.Kamshilov, N.Pelagesh. The analysis of the scientific literature testifies to the constant interest of teachers, methodologists, linguists in the problem of methods of conducting foreign language classes for professional communication.

The aim of the article is to determine the current reasons for learning English in modern Ukrainian society and the world in particular.

The importance of English in the modern world at the moment is quite large. Most recently, it was a foreign language for us, and today it is international. In all countries of the world the study of English is of great importance. Almost everyone dreams of learning it at least at an elementary level. Today, children begin to learn this language at a preschool age. Many do not understand the importance and need for English in the modern world [3].

English is the language of instruction. The role of English in the modern world is obvious to students who want to get a decent education. This knowledge allows you to study at absolutely any university, which is a priority for most Ukrainian students [3]. Most methodologies are written in English, which provides wider and better access and variety of information. University graduates often rate learning a foreign language as the most important course they have taken at university, mainly because of the communication skills they have developed during this study [2].

English is the language of business. Today, there are very few jobs that do not require the use of English. More and more companies are working with clients or partners from abroad and it is almost impossible not to use English. English is a very practical language for business communication and it is almost always the official language of international companies [1].

English is the language of barrier-free travel. We live in a global world, and international travel has become the norm for many of us. Holidays abroad require knowledge of the local language or the use of English, so for most people English becomes the easiest and most practical option. If you speak English, you can book tickets, hotels, tours and read all the necessary tourist information around the world [1].

English is the language of self-development. The most developed countries in the world use the English language to announce their discoveries or significant events. Most sites on the Internet are in English, so only one language gives you access to almost all knowledge. In addition, it is possible to participate in forums and discussions on various interesting topics without the help of an interpreter [1].

English is the language of youth. English plays an important role in the lives of adolescents and young people. Computer games in English are very popular among gamers. There are also useful programs in English. Knowledge of foreign allows you to easily use not only games but also applications. A large number of English words are present in youth speech, in Ukrainian society it is slang [3]. Almost all popular movies and TV series are initially available in English, so if you understand English, you won't have to wait for them to be translated and dubbed into your native language [1].

Thus, it can be argued that the English language plays an important role in the life of every Ukrainian. English is the language of all spheres of life. It is needed both in personal and professional life. Learning English will expand our opportunities and allow us to develop ourselves. This is a new reality in which we live, to improve or not, only our choice!
